IMPORTANT: Students must acknowledge having read, understood and accept terms of the Financial Obligation Agreement prior to registering for classes each semester. This means if you register for any classes, you are financially obligated to pay for them, regardless of the status or availability of any financial aid. As always, you can continue to make changes to your class schedule prior to the first day of the Term without incurring a financial penalty. Check the refundability schedule posted online for specific dates. As a reminder, lack of attendance in one or more classes does NOT absolve your financial responsibility—we are saving the seat for YOU! published Payment
